ST. JOHN THE ÁGED

After One Hundred Years

I'm growing very old. This weary head
That hath so often leaned on Jesus' breast,
In days long past that seem almost a dream Is bent and hoary with its weight of years.

These limbs that followed Him—my Master—oft From Galilee to Judah ; yea, that stood Beneath the cross, and trembled with His groans, Refuse to bear me even through the streets

The three Marys' at the Cross.

To preach unto my children.

E'en my lips

Refuse to form the words my heart sends forth.

My ears are dull, they scarcely hear the sobs

Of my dear children gathered round my couch :

God lays his hand upon me,— yea his HAND,
And not his ROD—the gentle hand that I Felt, those three years, so often pressed in mine, In friendship such as passeth woman's love.

I'm old, so old I cannot recollect

The faces of my friends, and

I forget

The words and deeds that make up daily life;

But that dear face and every word

HE spoke,

Grow more distinct as others fade away,
So that I live with Him and holy dead
More than with living.

Some seventy years ago I was a fisher by the sacred sea.
It was at sunset. How the tranquil tide Bathed dreamily the pebbles! How the light

Crept up the distant hills and in its wake

Soft purple shadows wrapped the dewy fields!

And then HE came and called me.

Then I gazed,

For the first time on that sweet face.

Those eyes

Christ and the Fishermen.

From out of which, as from a window, shone Divinity, looked on my inmost soul,
And lighted it forever. Then
His words Broke on the silence of my heart and made

The whole world musical.

Incarnate love

Took hold of me and claimed me for its own.

I followed in the twilight, holding fast
His mantle.

O, what holy walks we had,
Through harvest fields and desolate, dreary wastes !
And oftentimes he leaned upon my arm, Wearied and wayworn, I was young and strong

And so upbore Him. Lord, now I am weak,
And old and feeble! Let me rest on Thee!
So, put Thine arm around me.
Closer still!

Christ in the Home of Mary and Martha.

How strong Thou art! The twilight draws apace.

Come, let us leave these noisy streets and take

The path to Bethany ; for Mary's smile

Awaits us at the gate, and Martha's hands

Have long prepared the cheerful evening meal, Come, James, the Master waits ;
and Peter, see,
Has gone some steps before.

What say you, friends?
That this is Ephesus, and Christ has gone Back to HIS kingdom?
Ay, 'tis, 'its so.
I know it all; and yet, just now,
I seemed

To stand once more upon my native hills,
And touch my Master. O, how oft I've seen
The touch of HIS garments bring back strength To palsied limbs! I feel it has to mine.

Up! bear me once more to my church!

Once more

There let me tell of a Savior's love;

For, by the sweetness of my Master's voice

Just now, I think he must be very near,—

Coming, I trust, to break the veil, which time Has worn so thin that I can see beyond
And watch His footsteps.

So, raise up my head.

How dark it is! I cannot seem to see

The faces of my flock. Is that the sea

That murmurs so, or is it weeping? Hush,

My little children! God so loved the world
He gave His Son. So love ye one another.
Love God and man. Amen.
Now bear me back,
My legacy unto an angry world is this:

I feel my work is finished. Are the streets so full?

What, call the folk my name?

The Holy John?

Nay, write me rather, Jesus Christ's beloved,

And lover of my children.

Lay me down Once more upon my couch, and open wide
The eastern window. See, there comes a light Like that which broke upon my soul at eve,

Vision of St. John the Evangelist on the Isle of Patmos.

When, in the dreary Isle of Patmos, Gabriel came
And touched me on the shoulder.
See, it grows As when we mounted toward the pearly gates.
I know the way! I trod it once before.

And hark! it is the song the ransomed sang

Of glory to the Lamb! How loud it sounds!

And that unwritten one! Methinks my soul

Can join it now. But who are these who crowd

The shining way? Say!—joy! 'tis the eleven,
With Peter first? How eagerly he looks!
How bright the smiles are beaming on James' face!

I am the last. Once more we are complete
To gather round the Paschal feast.
My place
Is next my Master. O, my Lord, my Lord!

How bright Thou art! and yet the very same I loved in Galilee. 'Tis worth the hundred years
To feel this bliss! So lift me up, dear Lord, Unto Thy bosom. There shall I abide.
